The Last Veto

The telegraph has already made us acquainted with the provisions of the civil rights bill lately vetoed by the President We have also a full statement from the President of the reasons which induced him to withhold his assent from that measure The country may now balance the bill against the reasoning which has been offered to show why it should not become a law The following is a full synopsis of the bills as finally amended and sent to the President for his approval We republish it from our issue of the 14th ult, that readers may have an opportunity of considering it in connection with the veto message

The first section provides that all persons born in the United States and not subject to any foreign power excluding Indians not taxed are hereby declared to be citizens of the United States without distinction of color and the inhabitants of every race and color without any previous condition of slavery or involuntary servitude except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted shall have the same right to make and enforce contracts to sue and be parties to suits, to give evidence and to inherit property, loan, sell, hold and convey real and personal property, and to have a full and equal benefit of all the laws and proceedings for the security of person and property, and shall be subject to like punishment, pains, penalties, and to none other, any law statute ordinary regulation, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding

The second section says—any person who under color of any law shall subject or cause to be subjected any inhabitant of any State or Territory to be deprived of any right secured or protected by this Act, or to different punishment, pains or penalties, on account of such person having at any time been held in a condition of slavery or involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted or by reason of his color or race than is prescribed for all other persons, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall on conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding $1000 or imprisonment not exceeding one year or both, at the discretion of the Court

The third section gives the United States District Courts exclusive jurisdiction of cases arising under the Act, and also concurrently with the United States Circuit Courts, of all cases civil or criminal affecting persons who are denied or cannot enforce the rights secured by the Act, in the judicial tribunal in the State; and if any suit or prosecution civil or criminal, has been or shall be commenced in any State Court against any such persons for any cause whatsoever or against any officer, civil or military, or other person, for any arrest or imprisonment, trespass or wrongs done or committed by virtue of, or under authority derived under this act, or any Act establishing the Bureau for the relief of Freedmen and refugees, and all Acts amendatory thereof, or for refusing to enforce any such Act upon the ground that it would be inconsistent with this Act, such defendant shall have the right to remove such cause for trial to the proper District or Circuit Court, in the manner prescribed by the Act relating to the writ of habeas corpus, and regulating the judicial proceedings in certain cases United States Marshals, District Attorneys, and agents of Freedmen's Bureau, are empowered to prosecute this bill, and severe penalties are provided for all persons who may in any way hinder the operation of it.

An ad litt mi section provides that on all questions of law arising in any case under the provisions of this Act, a final appeal shall be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States Nothing in this Act, however, is to be so construed as to affect the laws of any State concerning the rights of suffrage

This bill was framed with unusual care by Mr. Trumbull, one of the first men in the Senate, and confessedly, one of the ablest of our constitutional lawyers It was prepared with an especial view to the exclusion of everything against which it was thought the President could raise objections Evidently, it was not supposed that he would veto it through a predetermination not to grant protection to the blacks; but such is the case. The President shows unmistakably that he opposes all legislation which would secure the rights of colored people against the acts or sex of the whites, and puts himself on the record as an enemy of every measure which would protect the defenceless freedmen against the unequal and infamous negro codes of those States whose rebel Legislatures seem to have exhausted their diabolical ingenuity in inventing schemes for the oppression of half their population The President means to leave the freedmen in the hands and at the mercy of their old oppressors It is too plainly to be seen that he intends to employ all means in his power to shut them out from all hope of obtaining redress for any wrongs which States or individuals may choose to inflict upon them. He purposes, if possible, to prevent the General Government from affording protection to those whom his predecessor said were the "wards of the nation." Though he talks about "co-operating with Congress in any measure that may be necessary for the preservation of the civil rights of the freedmen," such a declaration amounts to nothing in the face of the fact that he squarely denies the right of Congress to do anything of the kind. A declaration of this sort is paralleled exactly by what we heard so often a few years ago from certain parties, viz That they were decidedly in favor of the Union but opposed to any measure which would accomplish its preservation.

The first section of the bill makes "all persons born in the United States and not subject to any foreign power, excluding Indians not taxed, citizens of the United States" The right and power of Congress to confer Federal citizenship the President is compelled to concede, and does not undertake to deny The proposition to make any class of persons citizens of the United States, annuls no right which is reserved to the several States Since Congress has the undeniable right to confer Federal citizenship, it has also the right to secure to all persons thus endowed such rights and privileges as properly belong to those who are made citizens When State laws discriminate against persons who are declared citizens of the United States, those State laws become unconstitutional. When a law of a State contravenes a law of Congress framed under powers granted by the Constitution, the former, not the latter, is open to objection by reason of its unconstitutionality

The rights and privileges which are enumerated in the first section of the bill, and which it is proposed to confer on the classes mentioned, are simply such as must belong to every person who is to be regarded as a citizen of the United States Other rights, such as that of suffrage exist, but these under our form of Government, are incident to State citizenship, and with these, Congress does not propose to interfere The bill which has been vetoed does not meddle with the question of political rights It is simply a measure for the impartial administration of justice, and for the maintenance of such rights as every member of civil society may claim as his own

Why may not justice with an even hand, dispense her favors impartially among all men? Must she be a niggard in her dealings with a large portion of mankind lest she have not enough of good gifts for others? Are men afraid that their own rights will be abridged by putting others on the same footing with themselves? He who would deny justice to other men through fear that his own rights would be infringed if justice were done to all, might as consistently wish to shut out the light of the sun from a part of mankind through a selfish fear that if all were to share the blessing, his own enjoyment of it would be diminished or impaired

The President objects to the civil rights bill because he says, it attempts to fix the perfect equality of the white and colored races in every State," and that it would interfere with the laws regulating suffrage, marriage, &c It would be difficult for any one except the President or a Copperhead to perceive how that a law which gives the blacks the right to make and enforce contracts, to redress personal injuries &c, can confer on them the right of suffrage or annul State laws prohibiting their intermarriage with the whites Besides, the last section of the bill expressly declares that nothing therein contained shall be construed as giving the right of suffrage to the blacks Nor is their anything in the bill which has the least reference to the social or domestic relations of the races, or which would in any way interfere with, or change them. The President raises objections against points which are not in the bill, and vetoes it because he cannot give his approval to what it does not contain or propose to enact. Such a course, to use no harsher terms, is specious, uncandid, and unfair. His discourse, on negro equality, bears a striking resemblance to the harangues of broken down Democratic politicians, or to the fulminations of Democratic journalism. We believe that the civil rights bill is a measure whose enactment justice demands It might well have been entitled "A bill to secure justice to those classes to whom justice has hitherto been denied" The prospect is that it will yet

SPECIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 6, 1866

UNION STATE TICKET.

For Congress,
RUFUS MALLORY, of Marion.

For Governor,
GEORGE L. WOODS, of Wasco.

For Secretary of State,
SAMUEL E. MAY, of Jackson.

For State Treasurer,
E. N. COOKE, of Marion.

For State Printer,
W. A. McPHERSON, of Linn.

The Rights of the States

Though the revolted States, by the act of their people, forfeited their rights under the Constitution, and though these rights have not yet been fully restored, the time must come when the relations of the seceded States with the General Government must be resumed. There is no class or party that does not wish this restoration to be as speedily effected as possible. It will be impossible for the States to exist in political relationship except as equals, having equal powers and equal rights. Nor is there any party that would place the States on unequal relations with each other, or with the General Government. When the revolted States shall have been fully restored, all will then be on a perfect equality. The rights of the States North are to remain unimpaired; and the rights of the States South are to be preserved. The Union party is as deeply interested in vindicating and maintaining the rights of the States as their political opponents can be. Since all the States of the Union are to stand on an equality, it would be the climax of folly for the Union party to consent to throw away the rights of the States which they control, for the sake of permanently withholding from the States lately in revolt the exercise of the powers of Statehood. The Union party does not intend to do this. The revolted States are to be re-invested with full powers the moment it can be done with safety to the Union, and to the rights of the freedmen. Therefore all the uproar the opposition are making about this matter is a sham. The President's fears about the destruction of the States by Congress are a pretense; or if not a pretense, they are altogether unfounded. Mr. Johnson would do better to cease talking for buncombe about the rights of the States, and go to talking in earnest for the rights of man. The former are in no danger, while the latter are in deadly peril. Loyal men, white and black, are alike proscribed and persecuted in the South, while the Government that should afford them protection, is engaged in a controversy over a mere abstraction. The rights of the States are safe, for the North is interested in preserving them; the rights of man are in danger, for the South disregards them.

Democratic State Convention

PORTLAND, April 5, 1866.

At 10 o'clock A. M. the Convention was called to order by J. R. Stowell, of Multnomah county, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. The election of a Secretary pro tempore being declared the first order of business:

Mr. Morford, of Umatilla, nominated L. F. Grover, of Multnomah, who was chosen without dissent.

On the motion of R. J. Ladd, Vic. Trevitt, of Wasco, was elected temporary Secretary.

Mr. Fay moved that Lafayette Lane, of Multnomah, be temporary assistant Secretary, which prevailed.

Mr. McMillen, of Multnomah, was elected Sergeant-at-arms.

Mr. ——, of Marion, tioned the appointment of a committee on credentials, which prevailed, and the Chair appointed Messrs. Conser, of Marion; Fay, of Jackson; Whitaker, of Lane; Hedges, of Clackamas, and Strong, of Multnomah.

Mr. Dennis, of Multnomah, moved the appointment of five on permanent organization, which prevailing, the Chair appointed Messrs. Hawthorn, of Multnomah; Nash, of Baker; Cole, of Umatilla; Cranor, of Linn, and Norris, of Douglas.

Mr. Myers moved the appointment of a committee to report on order of business.

Mr. Dennis raised the query whether the appointment of the committee should be made now or more properly after the call after a permanent organization.

Mr. Jas. F. Miller thought the committee should not be appointed till the convention should know through its delegates from States, who were entitled to act as members of the Convention.

Judge Strong said he could not see why this committee could not properly be appointed now. The President could experience no difficulty in selecting gentlemen known to be of that character. The report of such committee would cause in after the reports of the other committees, the convention would then be permanently organized and able to proceed without further delay, in its business.

The motion prevailed, and the President appointed Messrs. Myers, of Clackamas, McKean, of Clatsop, Hendricks, of Grant, Miller, of Marion, and Vinling, of Jackson.

On motion of Capt. John F. Miller, of Marion, the reporters of the press were invited to seats in the bar, and the Sergeant-at-arms was instructed to provide for the accommodation for them.

Mr. Butler, of Polk, moved that the convention adjourn till one o'clock P. M.

Mr. Cranor suggested the appointment of a committee on resolutions before adjourning.

Mr. Hall, of Multnomah, said that our aim are to go out as the sons of a convention, and we are only yet a portion of a delegated convention. The committee is properly the committee of the convention and not of the temporary organization, and should not be appointed till the convention be permanently organized.

The President said it would not be strictly parliamentary to appoint such a committee till after the permanent organization.

The suggestion of Mr. Conser was not insisted upon, and the motion to adjourn till one o'clock being put, was decided.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The temporary President called the convention to order, and inquired if the committee on credentials were ready to report. Mr. Cole, chairman of the committee, not being present, a few minutes or two were allowed for them.

After about fifteen minutes, coming in, Mr. Conser reported the following gentlemen entitled to seats as delegates and proxies: [We were unable to procure the list in time for this issue.—REP.]

By the report 9 out county was given one vote more than allowed by State Central Committee. Several counts which appeared in the report, as to number of delegates and proxies, were corrected, and a motion adopted to permit delegates to fill vacancies where they occur, and then the report was adopted.

Curry and Tillamook counties had no delegates, and on motion Mr. Norris, of Douglas, was elected by the convention to represent Curry county, and Mr. McEwan, of Clatsop, in same manner to represent Tillamook.

Mr. Ladd suggested that the Sergeant-at-arms be instructed to stop the noise below—[several workmen were employed in the lower story of the building.]

The President directed the Sergeant-at-arms to request that the noise be stopped.

Mr. Dennison, chairman of the committee on permanent organization reported:

For Vice Presidents—Hon. L. F. Grover, of Multnomah. For Vice Presidents—M. Block, of Union, Bart Card, of Linn, and W. H. B. Stone, of Jackson.

For Secretaries—Vic. Trevitt, of Wasco, and Ben. I. Norden, of Multnomah.

For Sergeant-at-arms—Wm. McMillen, and Jos. Sloan, of Multnomah.

The report was adopted, and the officers so elect, took their places.

Mr. Grover thanked the convention for the honor conferred on him, and made brief allusion to the importance of the occasion, this being a Democratic convention, called together to deliberate relative to the vital principles underlying the stability and perpetuity of the Government. He relied on the members of the convention to aid him in promoting harmony and supporting the dignity of the convention.

Mr. Myers, chairman of committee on order of business, reported as follows:

1st—Appointment of Committee on Resolutions.
2d—Nomination of a candidate for Congress.
3d—Nomination of a candidate for Governor.
4th—Nomination of a candidate for Secretary of State.
5th—Nomination of a candidate for Treasurer
6th—Nomination of a candidate for State Printer.
7th—Election of State Central Committee.

Mr. Fay, of Jackson, moved to amend the report by striking out "appointment" of committee on resolutions, and insert "report" of committee on resolutions. He wanted the resolutions reported and platform adopted before proceeding to make nominations. His motion prevailed.

Mr. Stout, of Multnomah, moved to amend the report so as to provide for the appointment of one committeeman from each county represented directly by delegates [This would leave Curry and Tillamook without representatives on the committee.]

Mr. Morford, of Umatilla, (a delegate by proxy) objected to the amendment, understanding it to mean that proxies should not be permitted to be upon the committee.

Mr Stout explained that the amendment would exclude no counties except those which had sent neither delegates or proxies

Mr Morford withdrew his objection

Mr. Conser moved to amend the amendment offered by Mr Stout, so as to provide for the appointment of a committee of five—one from each judicial district. He thought so large a committee as one from each county, would be too slow. A great deal of discussion would naturally arise among the committee-men, and a large committee would detain the convention too long. A small committee would report much sooner, and make just as good a platform.

Mr Stout opposed Mr Conser's amendment. He thought the important business of the convention was to settle the principles of the Democratic party, and a large committee as he proposed—one from each county—would do it as quickly, could agree as readily on what is Democracy, as a small one. The action of the convention would affect the party in all parts of the State, and all parts of the State ought to be represented.

Mr. Fay said we are all Democrats here and all know what Democratic principles are. A large or small committee would report Democratic resolutions and neither would be likely to report any other. He thought it immaterial whether the committee were large or small.

Mr. Conser's amendment being put to vote, was lost by a very large vote, there being not more than a dozen votes for it.

Mr Stout's amendment—providing for one committeeman from each representative county—was then adopted.

Mr Fay moved to amend the report by making the 7th order the nomination of candidates for Circuit Judges and Prosecuting Attorneys, which was adopted.

The report of the committee, as amended, was then adopted.

Mr. Strong, of Multnomah, offered a resolution, in substance that the convention would not be bound in making all nominations and that the first ballot in all cases should be only informal.

Mr. Page opposed voting by ballot, it being, as he thought, opposed to the genius of our laws. He preferred the viva voce method as being more open and manly. He liked to see how men voted and he was perfectly willing every body should know how he voted.

Mr. Strong said one of the important objects of the convention was to unmerse the bonds as harmoniously, to have a perfect agreement as possible among all the members here. The only way to get the free sense of the convention is to vote by ballot; then each one can vote with out restraint or fear of persons ally offending those for whom he may not vote for. If we could vote this year by ballot we could get the votes of a good many men in the Legislature acted upon as now by the Union party, who believe Democratic principles to be correct, but are afraid to vote with us for fear of being called secessionists. [Applause.] If we could have voted by ballot two years ago, we could have carried the State then. As to the last clause—providing that the first ballot should be only informal—he wanted every man to vote his choice the first time. He did not want any complimentary votes cast in this convention. The candidates for Governor and possibly the candidate for Congress, of the black Republican convention were so intimate in complimentary ballots, when they were not the choice of the convention. He hoped that this convention would do nothing of that sort.

Mr Page moved to strike out "ballot" and insert "viva voce." He did not care anything about gaining votes which we gained any other procedure than an open manly vote.

Mr Page's amendment was adopted.

Mr Cranor of Linn moved to strike out all the latter clause of the resolution relating to informal vote, which prevailed without debate.

The resolution which, as amended, provided simply for viva voce voting, was then adopted.

Mr Fay moved the appointment of a committee on resolutions, which was agreed to, and the following delegates were named by their respective county delegations. Benton, John Burnett, Baker, Jr Rackley, Clackamas, B Jennings; Clatsop, R S McEwen, Columbia, Hodges Knox, Douglas, Fen Sutherland, Grant, Dr Hendrix, Jackson, J D Fay, Linn, N H. Cranor; Lane J J Watson, Marion, C B Bollinger; Multnomah, Aaron E. Wells; Union, S. Alberson, Washington, F A Bailey; Wasco, N. H. Gates, Yamhill, W T. Newby, Umatilla—The delegation were at a "dead lock," and the President appointed N Ford, Polk, B F. Burch, Josephine, Geo T. Vining; Coos, Mr Norris, of Douglas; Curry, Mr Norris

Mr Page moved that when the convention adjourns, it adjourn to 7 o'clock this evening, and that the candidates be invited meantime to address the members of this convention

Mr Newby was in favor of adjourning to evening, and then listening to addresses of candidates, so that members who were on committee on resolutions could also hear them. He moved an amendment to that effect.

A delegate, whose name we could not get, spoke against delaying the business of the convention. He was ready to act now, and was anxious to get through—thought procrastination dangerous

Mr. Holman, of Polk, said he was as anxious to get home as anybody but he favored taking time. He wanted a platform to beat the whole generation of Blacks in this State and in the United States. [Applause.] It would take considerable time to do it, but he wanted the committee and convention to have plenty of time to make a good strong Democratic platform.

Mr. Dowling, of Marion, wanted to hear the candidates speak before the platform was made, so as to see what kind of a platform they would make for themselves. If we wait till the platform is made, of course they will every one jump on to it at once, no matter what it may be. [Laughter and applause.] He would like to see how they stand in advance of the platform.

Mr. Newby's amendment was voted down, and then Mr Page's motion prevailed.

The convention adjourned to 7 o'clock this evening.

EVENING SESSION.

The convention was called to order at 7.30, but the committee on resolutions not being ready to report, the time was occupied by Messrs Grover, Holm, Stout, Page, Johnson and others, in short speeches.

At nine o'clock, the committee on resolutions came in and reported the following resolutions

1. Resolved, That we adhere to the end of our political faith and practice, our steadfast devotion to the following principles, viz: Equal and exact justice to all men of whatever state, party or creed; the support of the State Governments in all their rights, and of the Federal Government in all its vigor; a jealous care of the elective franchise; the supremacy of the civil over the military authority; opposition to the centralization of power; economy in all public expenditures; the general diffusion of education; the encouragement of morality and the highest civilization; the right of every man to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience; freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of the person under the protection of the habeas corpus.

2. Resolved, That the action of the majority in Congress in refusing to admit the Representatives of eleven States, is an unwarranted assumption of power upon the part of Congress, revolutionary in its tendency, and dangerous to the liberties of the people; that we do and will sustain the President Johnson in his determination and efforts for the complete restoration of all the constitutional rights of all the States, and we unreservedly approve his veto of the Freedmen's Bureau and Civil Rights bills, and all his constitutional efforts to prevent the fanatical majority in Congress from changing or destroying our cherished form of Government.

3. Resolved, That the position assumed by President Johnson, that the Representatives from the Southern States ought to be at once admitted to seats in Congress, and that legislation affecting such States while they are unrepresented is unconstitutional, meets with our hearty approval.

4. Resolved, That the exemptions of the opposition that the Democratic party is in favor of repudiating the public debt, and that it is in favor of nullification and ... lion, is false and false.

5. Resolved, That we endorse the sentiment of Senator Douglas, that this Government was made on a white basis for the benefit of the white man, and we are opposed to extending the right of suffrage to any other than white men.

6. Resolved, That the exemption of United States bonds from taxation is substantially the exemption of rich men from taxation because they are rich, and the taxation of poor men because they are poor, and we are in favor of having those bonds for county, State and municipal purposes.

7. Resolved, That strict and impartial justice demands that the expenses of the General Government, as well as of the State Governments, should be borne by the people according to their ability, and not according to their necessities; and hence, that we condemn now, as in the past, a protective tariff that tends, necessarily, to oppress the masses for the benefit of the rich.

8. Resolved, That in a Democratic Government the real sovereignty rests in the people, and all efforts tending to wrest power from the people is a war upon them, revolutionary and dangerous; and that the existence of any national banks, after the experience we have had with and without them, especially in times of peace, is a subject of just alarm.

9. Resolved, That the unlawful and shameful squandering of the people's money by our present State officials merits with our emphatic condemnation.

10 Resolved, That while we ever hold in grateful memory those through whose patriotic, not mercenary or partisan services, the dignity of the Republic and the integrity of the Union were preserved; and we denounce as a base insult to the gallant living and heroic dead, the present efforts of the Radicals to convert the nation's victory into a partisan triumph, seeking to make the late war one of conquest, instead of the suppression of the rebellion—for subjugation instead of restoring the Union—for the negro instead of the white man

11. Resolved, That the miners should be encouraged and protected in the free use of the mines

On motion of Mr Fay, the resolutions were adopted, the vote being unanimous.

The announcement by the President of their adoption, was greeted with applause, and three cheers, under the lead of the President, were given for the committee.

On motion of J. W Mack, of Linn, the convention adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO APRIL 4.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—In the House, during the call of States for bills and joint resolutions, Washburne of Ill. took introduced a bill for continuing in the service acting medical officers of the navy and to supply vacancies in the regular list; the bill was referred. Shellabarger of Ohio introduced a resolution to declare and protect all privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States in the several States; referred to the judiciary committee. This bill is designed to throw material protection over persons who have moved south from other States and are now being driven from their country. No law under that clause of the Constitution has ever been passed because no necessity was felt for it before the war. Denny of Washington Territory introduced a bill in relation to the Courts of that Territory; referred. Also, a bill granting lands to aid the construction of a railroad and telegraph from Puget's Sound and Admiralty Inlet to the Columbia river. Bidwell of California introduced a bill to confirm the selection and location of certain lands granted by the United States to California; referred. Ward of New York offered a resolution which was adopted providing that the military committee report a bill qualifying loyalists as soon as possible. Schenck of Ohio said the committee was anxious to do so, and it was under the members to call for a thing to be done than for the committee to perfect measures which would provide liberally for the soldiers.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The resolution offered by Davis, of New York, on the 19th of January, which went over under the rule, came up as the morning business. The resolution declares that this House cherishes the most entire confidence in the patriotism and ability of the President of the United States and in his desire to restore the Union on a basis that will promote prosperity and peace, and that the co-operation of this House is pledged to him in support of the general policy of reconstruction inaugurated by him. Davis implied how much time remained before the expiration of the morning hour. Schenck suggested that he might have ten hours if he could tell what brought the resolution forth. The Speaker said the morning hour would expire in ten minutes, but the debate might continue unless some member should move to proceed with the business on the Speaker's table. Spalding, of Ohio, gave notice that he would make such a motion. Davis yielded the floor to Raymond, of New York, who expressed his supposition that the resolution would not under existing circumstances pass the House unanimously without at least some debate [laughter]. He felt desirous that when the resolution should be acted upon, it should pass nearly unanimously.

Paine, of Wisconsin said if, understanding that Raymond went so far as to exclude a motion to lay the resolution on the table, he would not agree to it.

Raymond replied that under ordinary circumstances the passage of this resolution would be simply a thing of course, as this House contains a large majority of Union men here.

The Speaker announced the expiration of the morning hour.

The special order was the Senate's army bill. Schenck of Ohio moved that in consequence of the absence of Blaine of Maine, the bill be postponed to the 12th of April, and that meanwhile the amendment reported by the military committee be printed. So ordered.

The Connecticut Election.

NEW YORK, April 2d 2 P. M.—The returns from forty-eight towns, including Hartford, Norwich and New London, gives Hawley, (Union) 7976, and English, (Dem.) 5668.

LATER, 2:30 P. M.—New Haven gives English 1600 majority. The Hartford full vote is as follows: Hawley, 2512, English 2091.

HARTFORD April 2d, 9.30 P. M.—Gen. Hawley will have a majority of 1500 to 2000 in the State. The vote is the largest ever polled in six years. In New London county all but two towns give a Republican gain of 700 over the vote cast in 1864. New London and Windham county voted the Republican ticket and give Hawley about 2500 majority.

HARTFORD April 3d, 9 A. M.—Hawley's majority for is 658. He will probably have from 500 to 600 majority.

CHICAGO, April 4th.—The Hartford Press of this evening, makes Hawley's majority 594 in a total vote of 77,502. The Senate consists of 24 Republicans and 9 Democrats. The House is unanimous Republican.

NEW HAVEN, April 3d. The Morning Palladium has 500 majority for Hawley. The Republicans are filing 30 signs over the election.

Local Elections

INDIANAPOLIS April 4.—The 24 Township election resulted in 1,400 majority Republican majority.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, April 4.—The democrats have carried the city election by an average of 200 majority. The republicans elect the mayor and six aldermen.

DAYTON, OHIO, April 4.—The Union ticket is elected by 300 majority except mayor, democrat who is elected by a small majority.

CHICAGO, April 4.—Governor Dillingham, of Vermont, has appointed George Edmunds, of Burlington, U. S. Senator, to fill the vacancy occasioned by Mr. Foot's death. Mr. Edmunds is a lawyer and has been considerably in public life. He was for ten years speaker of the Vermont legislature.

The caucus of the republicans of the New Jersey Legislature last evening unanimously nominated Alexander G. Cattell for U. S. Senator. Mr. Revell did not attend the caucus. The nomination is particularly distasteful to him apparently on personal grounds. Cattell being a townsman and a rival, and the old ill feeling in the two houses of the legislature, threatens to defeat the election by the casting vote in the Senate against a joint meeting. Efforts were made to-day and Tuesday and again to-night to unite the republican party in the Senate. Senator McRevell made a speech yesterday declaring that he would adhere to his contract to the endorsing Cattell in unmeasured terms. He was not urging his own election, but would never submit to the dictation of party cliques. He again offered to vote with the republicans, for either Mr Field, Gregory or Van Dyke.

Proclamation of Peace.

CHICAGO, April 3.—The following is the President's Proclamation declaring peace

WHEREAS, by proclamation on the 16th and 19th of April, 1861 the President of the United States, in virtue of power vested in him by the Constitution and laws, declared that the laws of the United States were opposed and the execution thereof obstructed in the States of South Carolina, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, by combinations too powerful to be suppressed by ordinary judicial proceedings, or by powers vested in the United States officials by law and whereas, by another proclamation made on the 16th of August, of the same year in pursuance of an act of Congress approved July 13th, 1861, the inhabitants of Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi, Tennessee and Virginia, except the forty-eight counties of Virginia, designated as West Virginia, and the ports of New Orleans, Key West, Port Royal, and Beaufort, South Carolina, were declared to be in a state of insurrection against the United States; and whereas, the House of Representatives, on the 22d of July, 1861, adopted a resolution in words as follows, viz: Resolved, That the present deplorable civil war having been forced upon the country by disunionists in the Southern States in revolt against Constitutional Government and in arms around that capital: that in their national emergencies, Congress banishing all feelings of mere passion or resentment will recollect only its duty to the whole country; that this war is not waged on our part in any spirit of oppression nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor for the purpose of overthrowing nor interfering with the rights or established institutions of those States, but to maintain and defend the supremacy of Constitution and preserve the Union with all its equality and the rights of the States unimpaired and that as soon as these objects are accomplished, the war ought to cease; and whereas, the Senate of the United States, on the 20th of July, 1861, adopted a resolution in words viz the same as above; and whereas, these resolutions, though not joint or concurrent in form, are nevertheless of like final action and may be regarded as having been the expressed wish of Congress upon the subject to which they relate; and whereas, by the proclamation of June last, the insurrection in the State of Tennessee was declared to have been suppressed, the authority of the United States there to be vindicated, and the citizens to have been declared restored to their constitutional relations of their offices and functions; and whereas there is now no organization or resistance of the misguided citizens or others to the authorities of the United States in the States of Georgia, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Texas and Florida, and in the laws are now being enforced in those States by the proper civil authority of the State or Federal Governments, and the people of the States are well and loyally disposed, and have conformed or will conform to the change of affairs growing out of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, prohibiting slavery within the limits or jurisdiction of the United States, and that slavery must cease in consideration of these facts, and the progress, it being the manifest determination of the American people that no State of its own will has the right to secede itself or be separated from the American Union, and that therefore each State ought to constitute an integral part of the United States; and whereas, the people of the several before mentioned States have, in the manner named, given satisfactory evidence that they acquiesce in the restoration of national unity; and whereas, it is believed to be a fundamental principle of the Government, that people who have revolted, and have been overcome and subdued, must so be dealt with as to induce them voluntarily to keep forth, and that they must be held by absolute military power, or else so devastated as to prevent them from doing harm as enemies, which last named policy is abhorrent to our humanity; and whereas, the constitution of the United States provides for constitutional communities only as States and not as Territories, dependent upon grants to lands; and whereas, the present must necessarily be a transition state in the restoration of the United States, that those States by places on a proper footing as the rights of communities demand, and provided with to be several parties with which they are governed, and which political policy in accordance with the principle of right and justice, and well calculated to induce the people of said States to return there constant in their renewal of allegiance, and whereas, the standing army, military occupation, military law, military tribunals and suspension of the writ of habeas corpus are in times of peace dangerous to public liberty and incompatible with the ordered rights of persons contrary to the genius of our institutions and exhaustive of the national resources, and ought not, therefore, to be continued or allowed, except in case of actual necessity, as invasion or for the suppression of treason; and whereas, the Government of the United States from the beginning of insurrection to its suppression, has carried on in conformity with the principles herein enunciated, the office of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare, that the insurrection which has heretofore existed in the States of Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida, is at an end, and henceforth to be so regarded. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington on the 2d of April, in the year of our Lord 1866, and of the independence of the United States the 90th

NEW YORK, April 2.—The steamer City of Paris, from Liverpool March 21st, via Queenstown 22d, arrived this morning. Consols closed at 89⅝@89⅞. Bonds firmer at 67@69. In the House of Commons, Grosvenor gave notice that on the second reading of the reform bill, he would move an amendment declaring it inexpedient to discuss the bill until the House has before it the entire reform scheme contemplated by the Government. Sir Hugh also gave notice of an amendment to prevent the bill taking effect till provisions shall be made for a redistribution of seats. The Times says Lord Stanley will second Grosvenor's amendment. He predicts that it will receive unexpected support, and hopes that it will not be too late for the Government to bring forward a better bill. The Morning Post believes an amendment of the bill will prove a death blow to the ministry. The News and Star regard it as an audacious movement, nothing but opposition to reform, and say the conservatives dare not move a direct negative in the House. The Corps Legislatif after rejecting another proposed amendment relative to the press law, finally adopted the entire address. Ayes 251 against 17.

NEW YORK, April 2.—German advices continue to represent the relations of Austria and Prussia as very threatening. It is even asserted that Austria had ordered the assembling of 100,000 men on Bohemian frontier, and that she has sent a circular note to European powers disclaiming all responsibility for the consequences of any conflict which may arise.

The London Times dire in attention to the critical state of affairs in Germany, and says Bismarck has drawn off his mask and the Duchies are to be annexed to Prussia. Preparations for war are progressing on both sides. In both Capitals Military Councils have been held and plans of the campaign have been discussed. The funds were depressed in various European towns by these rumors.

The Spanish Government had raised the state of siege in New Castile.

The Russian Embassador had quit Rome.

The rebel pirate Shenandoah was sold at Liverpool March 22d, at auction for £16 750.

EUROPEAN IMMIGRATION.—The total number of passengers who arrived at New York from Europe during the year 1865, was 200,031.

The horses by fire in New York city from the first day of June to the last day of November, 1865, foot up $3,781,361.

BIG BEND.—THE VICTORIA SCHISM.—The British Colonist of March 24th, printed at Victoria, contains in its ... the highest terms Mr W. H. Olmsted of San Francisco, ... has taken an active part during the past year in Big Bend and Victoria, and characterizes the gentleman as ... the indefatigable representative of the Chamber of Commerce in California, in relation to the bank, ... and the Lands Act. On the 20th of March, ... two days after the same paper prints a letter signed ... W. E. Q., dated Lytton March 10th which appears mercifully to the press before the immigration started by Mr Olmsted and his Chamber of Commerce. In the latter ... W. E. Q. appears a statement correct regarding what we have already published regarding the suffering on the route and saying further that there must be provided with provisions and double the amount of cash stated in the published reports as being required to reach Big Bend by that route. The writer evidently thinks that the action in this matter will put the country back two years.

ARRIVED.—The barks Wm H Swanton Capt. Guth arrived at the dock last night in tow of the steamer John H Couch twelve days from San Francisco. She left on the 29th ult. Was six days lay to C. Umpqua river. After that was about outside six days and 6 ... but was then in a gale. Her cargo is very full having nearly one hundred tons on deck and amounts to 770 tons in the aggregate.

EXPORTS.—The ... steamer Pacific Capt Hodgdon which leaves for Victoria this morning has the following cargo: Flour 2000 quarter sacks; feed 220 boxes; 30 ... gunnies wheat 170 sacks butter 30 firkins; lard 8 ... barrels; mill feed 196 sacks eggs 4 boxes; timothy seed 2 sacks.

Also by the Dealers in Family Medicines generally.

Notice to Whom it may Concern.

WHEREAS, I did some eighteen months since very unlikely inform the public that my wife had left my bed and whereas, same may have forgotten and some not have known thereof as I have been presented with a bill for payment of her contracting. Therefore to it known that Ethan Kern, on the 6th day of September 1864, did cruelly beat my son Elson and command me to do the same, for an offense reported to her by her little daughter, aged 4 years, upon those expressed conditions that if I did not whip him I need never call her wife which command I declined to perform and in consequence thereof she retired taking her little child out of bed with her, which I suppose she has done ever since!

Therefore, I warn all persons from harboring or trusting her on my account, as I will pay no bills of her contracting. WM KERN.

Ronown

To live a day the theme of every story,
The shining idol the gazing crowd,
To taste the gilded empty cup of glory,
Praised by the lowly extolled by the proud,

To bind the myrtle while its leaves are shining,
But find no aching thorn the temples bear
Feeling the dull care, the sin ever entwining,
And its leaves scorning with the falling tear—

Such is renown, the breath of early favor—
To-day "hosannah" and then, "crucify,"
Though sweet the bud yet bitter is the savor
The flavor yields, then sinks to earth to die

If but successful live the crowd applaud thee,
Soldier or scholar; do the best they seek
If Heaven smile, how all mankind will love thee;
But let it frown and its part pour and weak!

Labor you may and truth and peerless honor
May be companions of your unknown way,
Write but prosperity upon your banner,
And all the world will own your worthy sway

Let Keats and Shelley tune unknown their numbers,
Who cares that daisies bloom above their heads;
Let them be known, a nation breaks its slumbers,
And wonders that it let them die for bread

Empty renown! that breaks in flashing foam flakes
Upon ambition a cold and dritting mock,
Be mine the peace that calms earth's fevered heart-aches,
Be mine true friendship's earnest-hearted locks.

By Overland Telegraph,

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO APRIL 3.

A New Phase in the President's Policy.

CHICAGO, April 1.—The Memphis Argus of March 28th gives editorial prominence to statements that President Johnson has written a friend in West Tennessee a letter declaring that he is only waiting for Texas to do as the other Southern States have done in order to issue his proclamation declaring a general amnesty, and that the lately rebellious States, having resumed all their relations to be restored to the Union are entitled to equal rights The President further says he intends firmly, to see that all the States have their representation in Congress to which the Federal Constitution entitled them and to recognize a majority of Representatives of all the States in Congress In the same letter the President announces the policy he intends to pursue in regard to Tennessee, which while we deem improper for the present to withhold, may assure our readers that it will at once lift our State up out of the mire of oppression from an irresponsible oligarchy and place by the side of the other States on the platform of equal rights.

A. H. Stephens.—Refugees and Freedmen.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Alexander H Stephens arrived at Richmond last night, en route hither.

After the 10th of April it has been ordered that no further Government supplies be issued to Freedmen in the District of Columbia—the aged and infirm being provided for at the Freedmen's Village, and all others must find work.

A report has been received at the Freedmen's Bureau from Arkansas saying rations were issued to 450 refugees in February, against 300 the preceding month, and that rations were issued to 507 freedmen in January. The number of destitute refugees who have been supplied from the Government stores have fallen ed was anticipated over 100 since January. No issues are made to freedmen except such as are wholly unable to labor, or have no one to depend on to supply their wants. It is stated that time has all efforts to induce the civil authorities of a single county to make an attempt to provide for their own poor, white or black, have entirely failed.

The Secretary has withdrawn the permission heretofore given to manufacture old and damaged tobacco with payment of duties only upon the increased weight

The Tennessee Troubles.

CINCINNATI, April 1.—Advices from Nashville indicate that the special elections for 21 members of the Legislature resulted in favor of the Conservatives nearly all the holding members being re-elected. The Nashville express thinks it will be decided to present the re-admission of any holder to a seat. This test of party strength will come up for settlement within two weeks, on the ion Bill of the Legislature. The vote of Nashville at the special election to fill a vacancy in the Tennessee Legislature stood, Wm. B. Lewis, (Conservative bolter,) 1866. Judge Brien, (Unified,) 475. Memphis polled nearly 4000 votes of which less than 800 were for radical candidates The Brownlow law enacted last year excluding rebels from voting to have been generally disregarded, and Gov Brownlow will probably throw out enough of the returns to elect a qualified number of radical members to make a quorum in the Legislature, so that the necessary may be enacted, giving us a qualified negro suffrage law to carry the next August election.

The Nashville Union and Times, (radical organ,) says the opposition of the defeated leaders of the rebellion, that 50,000 Union votes shall be doomed to eternal defeat by 60,000 rebel votes, while nearly 50,000 qualified loyal Unionists are excluded from the ballot, would be absurd and preposterous. While forgiving our enemies, we do not feel under any obligation to them power to them. Nor we than place ourselves at the of our former persecutors, we would prefer being ruled by a Territorial Government and Council for the next ten years.

The New York Tribune endorses the course of Senator Scofield, of New Jersey, and believes there will be no trouble about electing an anti-and-out Republican as early as Wednesday, 4th, of this week.

Cattle Plague—Europe.

LONDON, April 2.—Reports from American Consuls in England, Hamburg, Amsterdam, etc., rep that a less number of cattle had died of the rinder but that a greater number are being killed than ever before to prevent the spread of the disease.

Terrible Storm in the West.

CINCINNATI, April 3.—A terrible tornado ed parts of Illinois and Indiana on the 30th of March. From the details which have become known it ar that the town of Mt. Vernon, in Johnson County and the village of in Posey county, were next to Montgomery, Indiana; which it ely, leaving a track of desolation three hundred yards wide. The total loss of life is estimated from 60 to 100, by ring entire families of from five to nine persons. Those of the cadets were taken up badly, and being articles have been recognized after being carried twenty miles.

The 8 Hour Law.

A bill establishing 8 hours as a legal day's work, in all kinds of mechanical labor, including miners and lumbermen, farm and team laborers, passed the Pennsylvania House of Representatives March 30th by ayes, 69, n 24. An effort to give the House servants the benefit of the bill was defeated; ayes, 39; noes, 54. The bill was killed in the New York House of Representatives March 30; ayes, 64; noes 84. A motion to reconsider was lost. The vote was the largest recorded this ion, only two members being absent. convention of the 8 hour league of Illinois was called to meet at on the 20th April 1866, to a grand league and arrange systematic action in the securing the passage of of the legislature favorable to the eight hour law.

Mississippi is to be ured to call on next year for

The Governor of Virginia has not to prevent the Federal army and navy from voting in that State under a specific penalties.

The Louisville Journal says Gen. W Washburn, President of the Southern Pacific Railroad, has concluded all that for money with which to complete the road from Shreveport to Marshall, Texas, and has returned to begin operations.

Johnson organs in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The National Republican appears to-day as a morning paper; it supports the policy of the President. A new paper called the Herald ed yesterday, which also supports the President.

Miscellaneous.

The General Land office has given to the State of California 500,000 acres of school lands in the Humboldt district.

Several Senators who are absent in Ve ton, where they went with the remains of Senator Foot, and others who availed th leave of the interim to visit home, are expected to return to-day, that a full vote may be had to-morrow on civil rights bill, except Senators Wright and Dixon, who were still to attend.

The action of the Wisconsin Legislature in instructing Doolittle to vote for civil rights bill, will probably call a speech from him on this subject.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—General Schenck will to-day report from the House military committee, a bill for reorganization of the regular army.

It does not differ from Wilson's Senate bill in the ngable attempt to the army, but authorizes the Veteran Reserve to be consolidated as a separate division of the ten R lments, the officers of which, who may hereafter be appointed, must have been promoted in the volunteer service. It omits the 2d regiment of colored cavalry and reduces the colored infantry from ten to eight ts. It provides ges ten for officers in the field, greater than that of officers on detail duty at Washington or elsewhere. Under the pr nt law, a Brigadier General on duty in Washington gets $1,500 more ly than when in the field. The bill now before the military committee, increasing the pay of Generals Meigs, Dyer and Tom s of $1,200 for each of them, will be reported upon adversely. The lobby is very active and hopeful on the Mexican loan resolution, and claim that there is no doubt of its p ge by the House and also by the Senate after proper delay by the latter body. to see what effect it has on Napoleon. On the same connection it may be noticed that rumors have been circulating for several days that parties attached to the French Legation are endeavoring to defeat this measure by liberal offers of money to influential politicians It is even stated that Maximilian will pledge a large share of his annual revenues for five years upon a guarantee that American policy should be peaceable during that period, and not be made inimical to his interests

The steamer California sails for Victoria on the 7th.

On their way to Idaho and Montana Territories.

The steamers Pacific and Montana, which will sail hence this morning for Portland, Oregon, will carry up quite a number of sturdy and hard-fisted miners, who have determined to try their fortunes in the much vaunted gold fields to be found in the Territories of Idaho and Montana. The major part of them will cross the Rocky Mountains and proceed to the Blackfoot diggings on the Western slope of the mountains. The mining district, with the principal city, Helena, is located in the Prickly Pear valley, on the very head-waters of the upper Missouri river, near the dividing ridge separating the Columbia and Missouri rivers; the distance between the two is great, says "Mullen's Pass," a section that the traveler can drink from the limpid waters of the Columbia, in the morning, and (crossing the "divide") quaff the waters of the Missouri, at noon. Blackfoot is about 470 miles North-east from Walla Walla, in Washington Territory, and some 150 miles south of Fort Benton—which is the highest point that steamboats from St. Louis have yet reached on the upper Missouri. We are informed by a gentleman who belonged to the expedition, that Mullen's party found gold on the Mullen road as early as 1856, while engaged in building a Government road through that country. That party was composed mostly of men who had enlisted in California in '49; they had become so well posted with their adventures at Fraser river, B C, and joined the Government party in order to have an opportunity to return to the Atlantic States, via the Missouri, so soon as they should reach Fort Benton. They however, knew what a gold bearing country was and said Old Know many years a second California as early days, will be opened up here"—just where the celebrated Blackfoot miners now are The Government road party also found red hematite iron ore, traces of copper, plumbago, etc Cinnabar is said to exist along the Hell's Gate, and at a point along the upper Missouri. Coal is found on the Missouri, and a deposit of asphaltum near the "Three Buttes," northwest of Fort Benton is supposed to exist In this connection we may observe that the Oregon Steam Navigation Company are having built a steamboat at the foot of the Pend-d'Oreille Lake, intending to run there some eighty miles to the head of the Lake; thence to Blackfoot is about 250 miles The steamer will be completed early in April, when Mr Wm H Ash of Oregon, will place a line of stages upon the line, to connect with the O. S. N. Company's steamers at some point on the Columbia—perhaps at Wallula or Palouse: landing thence, via steamboat on Lake to the mines The fare from the Columbia, including the Lake passage, will be $150 Now that the fare hence to Portland, Oregon is put down so low, it is estimated that the sum of $130 will amply suffice to carry a person from San Francisco into the Blackfoot mines.—S F. Flag, March 31

TOO MODEST BY HALF.—President Johnson has on many public occasions within a few months past, expressed a desire to effect the restoration of the Union, and his willingness to act as the Moses of the colored race in leading them out of bondage into freedom. The frequent repetition of those expressions on his part lead us to suppose that he is quite desirous to have the reputation with the present age and with posterity, of having accomplished these two great achievements But, unfortunately, Johnson is several years too late Those chaplets of fame were won and worn by Abraham Lincoln, and to the end of time, no man one, by merely claiming them, strip them from the martyred President's brow. He was the Moses who led the colored race out of the bondage of Egypt to the land of freedom. He made them free by setting in motion that train of causes which made his followers the instruments of a destiny which they could not control. He trod the wine press of emancipation alone, and alone he will wear the crown of victory We hope we shall never hear from Andrew Johnson another expression of a desire to be the Moses of the colored race It looks too much like a desire to pull for jewels from the robes of the dead Lincoln If President Johnson, however, desires to be the Joshua who shall finish the work which Moses began, by taking these wandering freedmen and driving out the Canaanitish slaveholders who would exclude them from the promised land and prevent them from being invested with citizenship therein, he can earn this further fame by its further achievement. As it is, he stands on the shores of the black man's Jordan, and says "Back, get back, the Canaanites don't like you, wait till they do and then come across" Such a proposition, so far from giving him the fame of a Moses, or even of a Joshua will consign him to infamy as a Canaanitish leader

It is quite as impossible for Andrew Johnson to draw to himself the historic fame of restoring the Union That, too, belongs to Lincoln Thus a few incipient flatterers and lackeys of the press and of Congress, who desire to fawn upon the President by praising the reactionary policy that he pursues, will endeavor to persuade him that he, by conquering the North, will do more to restoring the Union than Lincoln accomplished by conquering the South. But when Lincoln brought the South to that position where it remained only for the Northern people to meet in Congress and say through their representatives on what terms the Union should be restored, then the Union was restored, the South having confessed those terms in advance, by laying down their arms and relinquishing the struggle

If Johnson desires, therefore, to surrender the cares and responsibilities of his office just as soon as he shall see the Union restored, he need not wait. His predecessor accomplished that work No President can tear the laurels from the martyred Lincoln's brow, by conquering the North as Lincoln conquered the South, and then saying, "Lo! I did it." The President's pretensions are too modest by half.—Chicago Tribune.

INTERESTING FOR THE SUPPORTERS OF THE PRESIDENT'S VETO.—Those Union men who have approved of the course of President Johnson in vetoing the Freedmen's Bureau bill and lecturing some of the most distinguished advocates of the Union cause, will be edified by the following from the Norfolk (Va.) Post of February 22d which is headed "Great Victory for the South

"Some time the morning of July 22d, 1861, when the news of the great Southern victory achieved by Beauregard over McDowell, and the awful rout of the Federal army on the plains of Manassas, was borne through the South on the wings of the wind as it were carrying joy and jubilation into every Southern household and gladdening every true Southern heart, there has been no news received with so much rejoicing by the people of the South as that contained in the dispatch announcing that the President had vetoed the Freedmen's Bureau bill This is the greatest victory they have achieved during the war—greater than any of the feats of arms of Stonewall Jackson or of Robert E Lee and it has given them more pleasure than had General Lee been elected Governor of Virginia They have found an ally in the President worth more to them than the alliance of France or England, and they now begin to see even as they saw foreshadowed at Manassas, the final triumph of the great Southern cause The Republicans have been ignominously defeated and driven from the field—routed, horse, foot and dragoons, and nothing can save them from total annihilation. All that is necessary for the South to do is to continue to hold up the President's hands and wage an unceasing and bitter warfare against the Republican Congress True, the Congress has numbers, but then it is only a mongrel horde of miscreants who can easily be put to flight, and with their friends of the North to aid them, as they did during the armed struggle, all that is necessary for the South is to bring every available man to the front, and push the present victory to a full consummation of their dearest and most cherished hopes"

MY PARTY.—The egotism of Andrew Johnson just escapes the sublime. To Ingersoll, a Connecticut politician who who distinguished himself by fighting the political battles of the Confederacies during the war, denouncing Lincoln as a tyrant and a usurper and branding all supporters of the Government against treason as bloodthirsty Abolitionists, the President, who owes his election to the same glorious party which elected the majority of Congress opened his heart in the following modest, diffident, grateful and very democratic fashion "When I said Union party I did not mean the men who are endeavoring to break up the Union, but the men who stand by me. I believe the maintenance of the Union depends on the policy which I have indicated to Congress Those who sustain that policy are my friends Those who oppose it I certainly have no desire to see elected to any office. The party of radicals is not the Union party" It must be clear to the most obtuse intellect, after pondering this curious declaration, that if the individual who occupies the Executive chair is not exactly possessed with the idea that he is the Government of the United States he does believe himself to be the sacred oracle of loyalty, from whose awful utterances there is no earthly appeal. "My policy," says the President, in effect, "is the only Union policy Those who support it are the only Unionists Those who oppose it, whether conscientiously or otherwise, are not Unionists, but radicals who are endeavoring to break up the Union."—Sacramento Union.

PLAINLY UNBOUND.—The objection made by President Johnson that there is no constitutional authority for a Freedmen's Bureau, nor any parallel legislation, is not sound. The Bureau of Indian Affairs, established under Government, takes cognizance of another class of "colored freedmen" and nobody has ever yet objected to the millions of dollars disbursed annually by its agents. But the Indians have made war against the nation many times. The negroes have defended and served us.
